Bernard Valentine lit a candle in honor of Francis "Frank" .

Frank was one of my closest friends. We worked together at the prosecutor's office, we drank together, we lifted weights together and we always had each others back. To the family of Frank, you lost a beautiful husband and father. Frank, until we meet again, save a place in Heaven for me, your brother for ever, Bernard Valentine

I remember the day you took me to Olomana Golf Course to teach me the game of golf. I also remember how you told me that everytime I went over 'par' that it was customary for first time golfers to take a shot of whiskey we had stashed in our golf bag. I was blitz on the front nine and never got to finished the back nine. We ended up at the clubhouse and upon exiting the golf cart I broke my ankle only I didn't know it then. The next day I show up at work after visiting the doctor with a "cast" on my ankle. I remember how much you couldn't stop laughing. Oh the fun time I had being your partner if only for a short time. I'll never forget you buddy!
