Nancy, as you journey to your final resting place where you will meet up again with Herman, I pray for you and your family. I will always remember and cherish the good old days in Okinawa during the 60's where we were like ohana. One of the stories my wife, Kay, talks about is you teaching the Okinawan wives how to cook and prepare American meals. Once a week you took the Okinawan wives shopping at the commissary and taught them how to prepare the meals. Mahalo Nancy for the memories. Mike Nakamura
