Philippe Ames posted:

James your Dad was all smiles and all goodness. A good guy only that generation was able to make them. Like my Dad, like Gilles. Sad to see that their universe is disappearing, but such is life. A generation replacing another. We are blessed to have known them, and to see the new generations going in a direction that is beyond us, literally, we will not see what they will see one day. I love how James was so generous, so giving. Even his blood, how many gallons did he give? so many. He was good looking young. I would love to see a picture of his in his later years too. With love, Philippe
