Celebrating the Life of Richard Clinton Black

December 2nd, 1950 - March 13th, 2025

We gather to celebrate the beautiful life of Richard Clinton Black, a kind and compassionate soul born on December 2nd, 1950, in the heart of Mississippi. Richard's journey was one of adventure, creativity, and unwavering dedication to his family and passions.

A true lover of outdoor activities and travel, Richard embraced the world's wonders with open arms, always seeking new experiences that enriched his life and those around him. His creative spirit and hardworking nature led him in his career as a Manager at Construction Company, where his responsible demeanor and kindness left a lasting impact on his colleagues.

Richard's greatest joy was his family. He shared a loving life with his devoted spouse, Jill McCready, and was a proud father to his daughters, Amber Burns and Crystal Black. His compassionate heart extended to his cherished sister, Sherree Ogden, and his three wonderful grandchildren, with whom he shared countless joyful moments.

On March 13th, 2025, Richard passed away in Wadi Musa, Jordan. Though he has begun a new journey beyond this world, his vibrant spirit continues to inspire all who knew him.

Let us remember Richard not with sadness, but with the joy and love he so freely gave. His legacy of kindness, creativity, and a zest for life will forever warm our hearts.

I only met Richard and Jill a couple of weeks ago on our Jordan tour but they both quickly became valued members of our group. The day in the desert was truly beautiful and I'm glad to have shared it with both Jill and Richard. I knew Richard very briefly but will now remember him forever. I plan to keep in touch with Jill, and she is always welcome to visit me in England. Sending love and hugs, Mel Gill. X

A few photos of a smiling "Richard the Lionheart" (as dubbed by our Jordanian tour guide Adnan) on his adventure in Wadi Rum. We didn't know Richard long but that last day he was the leader of our (travel) tribe!
