Alvin Posadas Labra

MAR 5, 1963 - NOV 10, 2025

Alvin Posadas Labra, lovingly known as Papa to his children and Daddylo to his grandchildren, of Waimānalo passed away on November 10, 2025 at the age of 62 surrounded by his family. Born March 5, 1963, in Guadalupe, Cebu City Philippines, he was the beloved son of Felix & Gloria Labra. Alvin's life was defined by unwavering faith, quiet strength, and a love for his family that guided him every step.

Alvin spent most of his life in the Philippines before moving to Waimānalo, Hawai'i in 2013 to support his eldest daughter, Marie, bringing with him his wife Emelita and youngest daughter, Ember. Though far from home, he carried the warmth, humor, and generosity of Cebu with him, touching the hearts of everyone he met.

Alvin married the love of his life, Emelita "Emy" Labra, on October 8, 1981 in Cebu. Together, they built a beautiful family and shared more than four decades of partnership filled with laughter, music, and dancing. He is survived by his loving wife Emelita and their six children: Marie Chandel Labra Lawrence, Marc Anthony Labra, Gloria Mae Labra, Juliet Mae Labra, Daisy Mae Labra, and Francoise Mae Labra Harter. He also is survived by nine beloved grandchildren, Marydel, Sean, Zuriel, Sophiel, Hayley, Isabella, Maessie, Koa and Ely, all of whom were blessed by his presence and care.

In the Philippines, Alvin worked for the Danao City Mayor's Office as a Radio Operator and the Provincial Government of Cebu as a Liaison Officer. After moving to Hawai'i, he continued his dedicated public service with the City and County of Honolulu.

Alvin's passions included playing tennis, walking along the beach, singing, dancing with his wife, and spending long conversations with his family. One of the things he was passionate about was chicken fighting and proudly tending to his chickens back in Cebu, he loved cooking his favorite Filipino dishes such as Pochero, Balbacua and Lechon Belly. Alvin enjoyed sharing stories about his adventures and his childhood to his family and friends. He enjoyed weekly mahjong games with neighbors to pass the time. His greatest joy came from his family, who was the center of his world.

A man of deep Catholic faith, he was a devoted member of Guadalupe Church and a member of Oasis of Love in Cebu where he found community, comfort and strength. Alvin lived with selflessness that inspired everyone around him. His sharp wit, dark humor, and joyful spirit never dimmed despite his long battle with cancer. On his hardest days, when asked how he was doing, he would simply smile and say, "I'm always good." He is loved by everybody. His courage, optimism, and resilience were nothing short of extraordinary. Even in his final moments, he still managed to crack some jokes. He was truly one of a kind.

Everything Alvin did was for his family. He sacrificed without hesitation to give his children a better life, all while carrying himself with kindness, strength, and grace. His heart touched countless lives, and his legacy lives on in the love he poured into every person he knew. Alvin wants his life to be celebrated by everyone who knows him and cherish their fond memories together. His final song being "For the Good Times" by Perry Como will be remembered by his entire family as he sang the song before he passed.

Alvin "Papa" Labra will be remembered for his laughter, his faith, his bravery, resilience and the boundless love he offered so freely. His memory will forever remain a blessing to his family and to all whose lives he brightened.

A funeral service to celebrate Alvin Labra's life will be held at Our Lady of Guadalupe Parish Mortuary in Cebu. Final details such as date and time to be announced by the family.

In lieu of flowers, the family kindly requests donations be made to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

These are some of Papa's advices To us, your sep1. Always be humble. 2. When you feel jealous of others, remind yourself: "I'll have that too, or I'll go to that place, in God's perfect timing." 3. Appreciate the simple things you have, and always be thankful for all the blessings in life and your wins. 4. Mean what you say, and say what you mean. 5. If you help someone but complain about it, it's better not to help at all—true kindness comes from the heart. 6. Stay optimistic, no matter the situation. 7. Don't chase what cannot be reached. Be content with what you have and enjoy every bit of it. 8. If you find it hard to talk to your Mama or me about your problems, just think of us as your friends. Isn't it easier to share with friends than with parents?

Hi I am Bernard Calderon and Alvin was a co-employee at the Provincial Government of Cebu or more commonly known as "Capitol". Whenever problems arise at work he would always be my trusted person to solve things over or in short my troubleshooter! A very dear friend was what we treat him in the office. A jolly fellow but serious when it comes to work. We will never forget the good deeds that you have done! Good memories will always be treasured! Rest in peace Alvin and let perpetual light shine upon you!
