Celebrating the Beautiful Life of Paulino Quezon

June 22nd, 1945 - December 14th, 2025

We celebrate the beautiful life of Paulino Quezon, born June 22nd 1945 in Honolulu, Hawaii. An injured veteran, Paulino met every day with confidence and creativity, never letting challenges slow him down. His life shone brightest in the company of his family, good food, and the open air of the islands.

After his service, Paulino began a new chapter as C.E. Supervisor at Hickam Air Force Base. Colleagues remember his hardworking and responsible spirit that kept every project moving forward. He led by example and encouraged others with steady support.

Away from work, he found joy in cooking and outdoor activities, especially fishing along the coast he loved. Those moments showed his creative side as he prepared meals that gathered loved ones around the table.

Paulino's greatest pride was his close family. He shared with his wife Jenny Quezon a partnership built on mutual support. Their sons Travis, Justin, and Chris grew under his guiding hand and now pass his lessons to his grandchildren Rhea and Kaikane. Each of them carries forward his supportive nature and hardworking drive.

Paulino passed on December 14th, 2025, in Waianae, Hawaii, not far from the ocean he loved. Though he is no longer here, the legacy of his steady confidence and generous meals remains in every family gathering and remembered fishing trip. We celebrate him with gratitude for a life well-lived.
