Encarnacion Raza Tagama

DEC 11, 1933 - APR 15, 2026

Encarnacion Tagama is remembered first for her kind, supportive, loyal, compassionate, and hardworking nature. Friends and family often speak of her gentle compassion shown in countless small moments.

Born in Sarrat, Ilocos Norte, Philippines, Encarnacion found joy in outdoor activities, sports, and travel. She spent many quiet hours sewing garments and keeping spaces tidy, simple tasks she carried out with care for others.

Her days were filled with kind gestures, whether mending a torn seam or lending a patient ear. Each act left a steady, comforting impression that still guides those who knew her.

Encarnacion shared a close bond with her sisters, Celestina Borja and Avelina Tagama, and lovingly remembered her six other siblings who passed before her. Their memories were woven into every story she told.

She passed away in Waipahu, Hawaii, surrounded by gentle thoughts from those who valued her steady presence. Though gone, her quiet help and loyal heart stay with us.

We hold Encarnacion's legacy of kindness close, grateful for the simple yet lasting comfort she offered through her life's work and caring spirit.
