I first met Annie and Kenny in the mid 80's when I worked for ICRT in Taipei. Being from Hawaii I returned here to the island. It wasn't long before I heard from Annie and shortly thereafter Ken came to stay with me. It was long before they were married with two lovely children. I will always remember Annie's sweet, kind, loving ways like a gentle breeze that was always welcome. I recall many good times when I was still single and Ken and Annie were just starting out and I remember the times we crossed paths after I was married. Over the span of 25 years + Annie was always a loving spirit and a joy to be around. She was a dedicated and devoted mother. Although my wife Suphawan didn't know Annie for a very long time she remembers Annie as a gentle soul, filled with kindness and love and compassion. I am so saddened by Annie's passing. I wish I would have known about her illness so my family and I could say Aloha to her. We will always remember the kindness and happiness in her smile that brightened everyone's world she passed through. We will miss her dearly but she will stay in our hearts forever. Annie, we all loved you and will cherish our memories of you. To Annie's family, Kenda and Mikey and all those who loved her we offer our heartfelt condolences during this time of loss and profound sadness. We believe that Annie's spirit will always be there for those she loved, to guide them and console them until that day when you all will be with Annie once again. We pray for you all and we pray that your sorrow will pass in due time. We believe God has taken Annie home, to end her suffering and allow her soul to rest and rejoice in the love of God. We believe that Annie will never be that far away from those she loved in her life. We know she will be there watching over her family and those that loved her. God Bless you Annie, you will be missed. I am so sorry that my family and I can't be there to say Aloha to you and share in the sorrow that fills all of our hearts. Annie, as you begin the journey we all must take eventually we wish you love and peace and are comforted by the knowledge that God has prepared a very special place for and we are comforted by the knowledge that in time we shall all meet again in happier times. I am so very sorry that my disabilities don't allow me to get very far from home these days but our thoughts will be with you Annie and our prayer will be with your family, your boys and the ones you loved in this life as they struggle to understand why you had to leave us so soon and struggle with the reality that you won't be there to grace all of the lives you've touched in your journey through life. God Bless you Annie. We will miss you Annie, may you rest in love and in peace. Dearest Annie ! I met you about 28 years ago and I had a chance to go to Hawaii to study English. You gave me a chance to meet all the nice people especially the Yeda family. You treat me like a younger brother and you helped me a lot for everything. Please accept my deepest condolences. I miss you so much! Please take a rest and I always think about you! But I know you are in a better place now. Enjoy your next life there!! Mahalo Nui Loa and Aloha!! Matane!! Boo##imported-begin##Yoshihiro boo Sasaki##imported-end##

My heart was filled with joy from the moment I met Annie while attending Sophia University in Tokyo. Although we will miss hearing her infectious laughter, we can cherish the sweet memories of her bright eyes and beautiful smile. Annie was a kind and loving person whose memory will live on in the hearts of all who were graced with her friendship. To her boys, family and loved ones, I offer my deepest condolences, prayers, and hope that the good memories of Annie will soon outweigh the burden of our sudden loss. Aloha, sweet princess. Until we meet again...-peter###imported-begin###Peter A, Ostensoe##imported-end##
